

You've Saved Me

I was heading for an emotional crash, then you save me

I was blind and now I see

I was experiencing a Love deficit

But then you showed me your tenderness

I felt so all alone

And now, with you I am home

You saved me from losing my capacity to Love

You came it seems, from Heaven above

I thought I'd never Loved again

But now, I can Love again, because you are my friend

You've helped me to restore my creativity

And now because of you, I've regained my sensitivity
