About the book:

This is a fictional depiction and is a collaboration of the Samaritan Text, the Bible, Egyptian Mythology, Aruba religion, The Emerald Tablets, Hermetic Teachings and some of the former Earth's Eastern Religions.

The year is 2354 in Earth years. The place is the planet Saturn within the galaxy known as the milky way. Most of the elite humans have migrated from earth to Mars or to Saturn and are co habituating with other solar beings and artificial intelligence instances. The former Earth is now a quarantined planet and an intergalactic industrial complex and is also used as a training ground for intergalactic wrestlers.

These solar beings originally came to our galaxy seeking to share their insights of the cosmos with humans and then they embedded their DNA within the original Homo Erectus species who were Nubians. iVision Dynamics later digs deep into the cradle of civilization, on earth as we know it. To extract the DNA of the Kushite's, and the Kemet's. Because of their superior physiological and Metaphysical abilities.

Our heroes, Wrestle Fest lead by Coffee, are later enlisted to fight an onslaught of dubious protagonists. Who are led by Satan. Lucifer, the arch enemy of all of the cosmos enlists the help of every villain or being who has ever been in opposition to the Most-High God.

Anyone who has opposed God, has now been enrolled in Satan's plot to take over the Cosmos. Lucifer has also deceived and engaged many of the people of God, to fight against God, in a scheme to take over time, itself.

The Wrestle Fest team losses the battle for time and is defeated by the protagonists, (RED). The protagonists are then ultimately overcome and are defeated by the Most-high god's who are (Shango and Oshun). In a prophetic battle known as, Wrestle Fest Armageddon.

Main Characters:

Anu – Leader of the Anunnaki

Coffees Brother, Fury, etc.

Pepper Brown – Time travel physicist

Thoth – Writer of the Emerald Tablets.

Red – (Reptosapien Dynasty). King, Red Leader, Enki – son of Anu.

iVision Dynamics – Corporation whose lines of business are Cryogenics, Time Travel Tours, DNA Manipulation.

Thoth – Writer of the Emerald Tablets.

Protagonist – Wrestle Fest Team. Coffee, Wrestle Fest Team Leader, Steal

Antagonist - Guard – (Guardians United Against, Reptosapien Dynasty).

About the Author:

Having grown up in the great city of Chicago, LeMay spent a lot of time as a teenager on Michigan Avenue; the Magnificent Mile. The energy that LeMay drew from the environment as a young man, was very beneficial to him. LeMay spent many days at the Art Institute of Chicago and also freelancing as a fashion illustrator. His work was greatly influenced by the great Stan Lee, (REX), Craig Perry and (WAK), Kevin Williams.

In those days, most summers LeMay spent his time working for various Art Galleries along Michigan Avenue, when he wasn't busy listening to Frankie Knuckles House music. It was great exposure for a kid from the South Side of Chicago. These experiences helped to shape his psyche and also helped him to crystallize his perceptions about life and to develop a personal plan for his life.

The author LeMay has worked in the psychological sciences, technology and in multi-media arenas. Consequently, LeMay has developed an eye for fine art. And has also attained professional certifications in Enterprise Computer Systems Engineering and design.

Which was culminated over 20 years, in while working in information technology. Where he flourished as an Enterprise Information Technology Engineer, and as Senior Citrix Design Engineer. In medical, financial and technology training and development sectors.

The author's interest and love for the arts was initially sparked by his grandmother and by his mother. And consequently throughout his life he has always tried to find a way to balance his love for God, his family and his work.

As a child, LeMay was frequently very ill with asthma. And as a tool to keep him preoccupied, his mother would give him pencils and paper to draw with, while he was in the oxygen tents in those days.

LeMay's mother introduced him to fine arts by bringing various art centered literature into their home. Which introduced him to authors and artists like Raphael, Michelangelo, Da Vinci, Gordon Parks, James Baldwin, Langston Hughes and W. E. B. Dubois.

Later, while serving in the United States Navy, LeMay was able to explore photography and became trained as a Naval photographer. Upon completing his enlistment and being honorably discharged from the U.S. Navy, LeMay began to focus on flourishing in the arts, while studying and working as a freelance wedding photographer.

LeMay's second divorce presented him with a unique opportunity. And that was to refocus on his love for the arts and to find a measure of healing and therapy for himself through his media and writing. Which lead to the writing and self-publishing of his first novel, 'The Work Around'. (A blue print for men to avoid divorce).

The author's vision for the publishing of, 'The Work Around and subsequent media, is that the media will be beneficial to readers who may find themselves in a traumatic and life impacting situations, and how to respond adversity, accordingly. Such as the main character, Mitch May in the novels of the, Impossible Trilogy, does.

LeMay has further developed and cultivated his mind and consecrated his spirit through the study of psychology, writing and independent publishing. As a result, LeMay has developed a multi-media conglomerate that is focused on disseminating provocative and thought provoking content on the subject of, Avoiding Divorce. For Black Men. In the forms of print, electronic and auditory media.

LeMay hopes to be used a vessel to help to restore families and to prevent them from suffering the trauma of divorce. LeMay hopes to render quality content that is substantive and transformational. And that also offers a measure of healing and advice to those who may find themselves in precarious and challenging situations in life. Such as but not limited to divorce, the loss of income, incarceration, illness, the loss of a loved one, etc.

Wrestle Fest Armageddon, marks the return of LeMay's return to abstract writing and Art. Which has been long awaited and arrested development.

Prelude:

Our heroes, the “Wrestle Fest team, are all direct descendants of the Moors of Spain. Their DNA was extracted and used to build the ultimate fighting machine, the AACU. The (AACU). Autonomous Artificial Intelligence Combat Unit, which was initially developed to combat the Nazi regime, the Arian super solders. Our unsuspecting heroes, “Wrestle Fest team, are about to be catapulted into a world of chaos and mayhem.

iVision Dynamics, is a corporation that’s in the business of DNA manipulation, Cryogenics, and Time Travel Tours. They were contracted to develop the AACU. But when WWII ceased the team was decommissioned. So, the team retired into their lives, as intergalactic wrestlers. iVision Dynamics corporation, is aware of the cosmically engineered powers that are inherent within the Nubian Asiatic homo erectus, develops the superior fighting units from the DNA of the original Asiatic homo erectus, who is Nubian and direct decedents of solar beings.

These solar beings, originally came to the galaxy, seeking to share their insights of the cosmos with humans and then they embedded their DNA within the original Homo Erectus, who was Nubian. iVision Dynamics later digs deep into the cradle of civilization, on earth as we know it. To extract the DNA of the “Kushite’s, and the Kemet’s. Because of their superior physiological and Metaphysical abilities.

Lucifer, with the help of RED, seeks to control time; future states of consciousness and all of the cosmos. Satan believes that time is a substantial force to be controlled. God and GUARD, knows that time is an illusion. Satan, develops a plot with Dr. Eve, and the lead Professor of iVision, (Dr. Eichvonstien), to take over time. Then, they create "RED.

RED, (Reptosapien, Extraterrestrial Dynasty), is the brain child of Lucifer, Dr. Eichtvonstien and Eve. Vigilantes, the most heinous galactic criminals and degenerates are enlisted into RED. Much like the Persian army of Xerses.

In 1941, iVision Dynamics Corporation developed the original (AACU). Autonomous Artificial Intelligence Combat Unit.

Her name was Coffee.

iVision Dynamics Corporation was the brainchild of Professor Thomas Düsseldorf and Professor Davis LeMay. They developed an advanced autonomous weapons systems platform that incorporated advanced artificial intelligence with bio cybernetics. iVision Dynamics Corp., produced and marketed the first fully autonomous mobile combat unit in, 1942. iVision Dynamics Corporation had essentially produced the first generation, “trans-human.

In the same year, iVision Dynamics Corporation also developed the first ever Cryogenics and DNA extraction and manipulation technologies platform.

Professor Thomas Düsseldorf
iVision Dynamics

Coffee was the initial AACU prototype. Her design was purchased by the U.S. Army during WWII, in an effort to aid the allied forces in combating the Nazi regime's soldier's strategy of hiding behind hedge rows in England and in Normandy.

The Nazi soldiers would leverage the height and density of the hedge rows as coverage for protection by hiding behind them. The Nazi soldiers would essentially pick off the allied forces soldiers, like sitting ducks in a row. Coffee's high jumping functionality was developed to address the Nazis strategy of hiding behind the hedge rows.

Coffee's superhuman strength was derived from her cosmic Nubian DNA. Which was extracted from the DNA of the ancient Moors of Spain. Her ancient Nubian cosmic DNA, gave Coffee the physical ability and mental acuity to formulate and perform complex attack strategies and evasive maneuvers intuitively and effectively.

She was the perfect war machine. Agile and stealth with super intelligence and she was relentless on the battle field. Coffee's supernatural mental powers and analytical skills aided her and gave her incredible critical thinking abilities.

These inherent characteristics that were necessary in solving complex battlefield challenges were a result of her DNA being developed from the strands of the DNA of her ancient cosmic Nubian ancestors. The Moors of Spain.

Coffee's supernatural mental, physical powers and analytical skills aided her and gave her incredible meta physical and critical thinking abilities. These inherent characteristics that were necessary in solving complex battlefield challenges, were a result of her DNA being developed from the strands of the DNA of her ancient cosmic Nubian ancestors, the Moors of Spain.

Coffee's bio electrical anatomical and systems architecture design was patterned after the physiological characteristics that were extracted from the DNA of the original ancient Moors of Spain. Coffee's ability to perform Naval and aviation navigation was also derived from her ancestors, the Moors of Spain. Who were celestial navigators, brilliant mathematicians, scientist, doctors and artisans. And they created technology that cannot be explained by modern man. Such as, wireless electricity that was harnessed and transmitted to and from the pyramids across earth's surface.

Coffee was equipped with one other weapon. It is a robotic arm that when triggered by an opponent, would render 5 slaps to her opponent. The weapon was dubiously named the “pimp slap.

The culmination of these abilities in Coffee afforded the allied forces the opportunity to gain the upper hand over the Germans during WWII. Coffees contribution to the war effort is similar to that of most black’s contributions in previous campaign’s that the United States has waged. In that the tide of the war was always changed, when blacks were allowed to serve and to contribute.

The 54th regiment of the civil war and WWI to name a few. And now the “Tuskegee Airmen of WWII. Coffees name would go down in history as one of the greatest combat units ever.

Now, having been decommissioned after the end of the war in 1945, Coffee has settled into her new role as a decorated retired military veteran and as an immortal. However, Coffees leadership and fighting skills were enlisted again and put back to work in the capacity of the team leader of the “Wrestle Fest Team.

The Wrestle Fest Team is an intergalactic wrestling team, who are members of the “Intergalactic Wrestling Federation. They travel galaxy to galaxy hosting intergalactic wrestling matches.

The Wrestle Fest Team

Before the time when the earth's surfaces had split and when the earth was one land mass, the creator, the Most-High God Jehovah God sent the Anunnaki lead by Anu, to earth to mate with the women of the earth. And as a result, they created a super solar humans called, Nubians.

Anu The Anunnaki Leader

There was one Nubian that was created from the friction and the nuclear fusion and reactions of the rock formations from the volatile movements of the earth. His name is "Quake. His stomp would shake the universe and trigger galactic tsunamis. But Quake was mortal.

“Ray, the mummy gangster, was hired to join the Wrestle Fest team. Ray is a descendant of the Ancient Kemmett race. He would use his burial cloths as a weapon in the ring. Ray is also a hand gun and cyber martial arts expert.

Ray

The Nubians were physically and mentally stronger than any other humans. They were endowed with super natural meta physical powers and abilities. Their cosmic DNA afforded the Nubians the ability to create complex mathematical equations and scientific advancements.

The ancient Nubians also used telepathic powers to communicate. At that time, humans walked and talked directly with the most-high God without the necessity to use physical appendages such as mouths. This was until Satan, a fallen angel tempted man into becoming separated and out of balance with the most-high God. But God in his infinite love for the children of God, the Nubian sent the Anunnaki led by Anu to assist them throughout the trials and terrors that that the Nubian, Gods children would face.

God new that his children, the Nubian would be hated and despised because of their natural beauty, intelligence, physical attributes and their innate ability to maintain their own family structure, without the interference of their homo erectus cousins, the caucus erectus. Which were led by Satan and his fallen angels called the Nephilim. The caucus erectus were under the influence of Satan, from the beginning.

Satan's jealousy of God's children, was manifested in his relentless determination to persecute and to buffet the children of God. But his attempts to hurt and to destroy the children of God, only made them stronger and they stayed together. God used Satan and the caucus erectus to perfect the Nubian race.

But many of God's children, believed the lies of Satan. And many of the children God fell by the way side, and no longer loved and worshiped God. But rather served themselves and gave themselves to murder and rape. As did their homo erectus cousins, the caucus erectus.

As a result, Gods children's the Nubian began to suffer great affliction and torment in the earth, and they were made slaves by their homo erectus cousins the caucas erectus. For God had to punish his beloved children, the Nubian. The caucas erectus allowed Satan to inhabit them. And they would often inhabit the bodies of humans to fight against the Nubians. Humans such as the slave masters, Adolph Hitler, J. Edgar Hoover, George Wallace, Mitch McConnell and Donald Trump to name a few.

But the Nubians would later gain their freedom. And God would send several deliverers throughout the ages in the form of Angels, to guide them throughout history. Such as Moses, Jesus The Christ, Abraham Lincoln Mahatma Gandhi, Muhamad, Elisha Muhamad, Haile Selassie, The Nobel Drew Ail, Marcus Garvey, Malcolm X, Dr. Martin Luther King, Bob Marley, Rapheal Warnock, Brian Stephenson, Cory Booker, Khamala Harris, Barrack Obama and Red Fox, to name a few.

Satan had lost the battle, but he still believed that he could win the war. So, he develops a scheme to over the one thing that man values the most. And that is, time. Satan devises a plan to take over time. Now, all he needs is a time machine. And he knows just were to look for one. And that is at iVision Dynamics Corporation.

Professor Davis LeMay, was the founder of iVision Dynamics. Now his offspring were at the head of the corporation. Davis LeMay VI, had gone back in time to the civil war era, and has fallen in love with a slave woman. LeMay, now refuses to return to 2354, as he has fallen in love.

Unbeknown to LeMay's wife Professor Pepper Brown who is his wife in 2354 and is also one of the bio chemist who funded the time travel tours program. Pepper Brown is furious and wants revenge against Dr. LeMay.

Professor Davis LeMay IV

Davis develops the concept for the time machine with his then feince, Pepper Brown. LeMay and Brown established the time travel tour busines in 2350. The time travel concept was funded largley by Pepper Brown, and iVision Corporation. Now, LeMay has traveled back to 1866 and fallen in love with a slave girl who is on his grandmothers masters slave plantation.

His wife Prepper Brown travels back to 1866 and discovers her husband with the slave girl, in his arms and kissing her. Pepper Brown is furious to learn of her husbands actions.

Heartbroken and betrayed, Pepper Brown desires revenge against Davis. She is ripe for deception. The kind of deception that only Satan can render. She needs a way to get back at LeMay. The love that she had once felt for her husband Davis is gone. Now, only hate and discotent remain. She wants to destroy Davis and his work.

Satan hath tempted her to do this evil. He has put a seed of murder and revenge in Peppers heart and in her mind. Now, Pepper She has gone insane at the vision of her husband with that hussy.

She plans to kill LeMay and the slave girl. She plans to go back in time. But she knows that if she kills LeMay, it will cause a riple in time. She knows that if she kills him before he's born it will cause a flux. To kill LeMay before he is born, would also nullify his works and inventions. Creation would never get to see the contributions that Davis has made.

The cure for Cancer. The cure for Aids. The cure of prostate cancer. A cure for Asthma. The time travel machine and so many others inventions, would never be produced if she kills him, in the past, before he is born. She needs a way to manipulate time, itself.

Professor Eve

It is Satan in his element with Eve. She is tempted. She has a soft spot that Satan is able to exploit. It is the spirit of vanity withing her. He uses her vanity to launch his plan to bring Dr. Eichvonstien into his plot. The plot to build the “Reptosapien Dynasty.

“Seduce your sugar daddy”. He say’s to Eve. “Make him bite the apple, and I will give you the world”. It was the same temptation that he’d used thousands of years before, on Jesus. The pride of life. Which is the same temptation that he’d used on Donald Trump.

Professor Erik Eichvonstien

Professor Eickvonstien and Brown both take the bait. And create a species, called “the Reptosapien to combat the powerful cosmic Nubians. In a plan to take over all time. And create a species, called “the Reptosapien to combat the powerful cosmic Nubians. In a plan to take over all time.

King Reptosapien Leader

“King is the leader of and is the first of the blended human reptiles. The Reptosapien are a ruthless and an evil sort. Bent on the annihilation of all that have ever allied themselves with the most-high God. They want to destroy all who love God.

Dr. Eickvonston then combines the DNA of the Reptosapien with the extraterrestrials from many different galaxies. The extraterrestrials are nomads that have no place of their own nor do they have their own anatomy. They are considered pseudo humans, as well. But Dr. Eickvonston loves his creations. He is their god.

“RED, (Repto Sapien Extraterrestrial Dynasty) is formed by Dr. Eickvonston and King in an effort to give the Reptosapien as sense of belonging and purpose. The Reptosapien have no beginning and culture to reference. Like the caucus erectus. They’re nomadic space travelers with no culture, home or roots.

Meanwhile, Lucifer sees an opportunity. He slivers into Professor Eve’s and Brown’s minds and convinces them to create a formula that will turn humans into reptiles. Satan believes the powers that reptiles possess, is stronger than the Nubians, that he knows that he will face in attempting to take over all time.

Professor Pepper Brown Soul Glo Enterprises

“Fret not my child”. As he whispers in Professor Pepper Browns subconscious. Fret not my child. He whispers into her heart. “I love you and your work”. “I value your worth and your work”. “And I love you more than Davis LeMay” “You should kill him, for his betrayal”.

She stood there inanimate. Black smoke and embers where spewing from her nostrils. Flames of red hot fire shot out from her eyes in a jet stream flame. Like a flame thrower gun. She is peering into the lab and at the spaces that they once shared together. The spaces that built together. The space where they had designed the time machine, together.

Now, it was all just a monument to the memories of the times when they were one and working on a common goal. A goal to build the first time travel tour business. They'd loved in those spaces. They'd toiled day and night over their dream. They'd invested together. They'd prayed together. They'd laid together.

They'd planned to have a life together. And now it was all just a memory. Her lover had fallen for a slave girl, from another century. Now, in her mind it was a testament to nothing. It was a waste of time, in her mind now. In her mind now, it had all been built on lies and betrayal. In her mind, he was now her enemy. Now, in her mind, she wanted revenge. She wanted pay back.

She'd given her life to their business. She'd given herself to him. She'd given all of her love to him. She'd given him the platform to grow into the status that he had. It had been all her doing, and all of her money and resources that were used to seed their business.

But in her mind now, he'd wasted it all and betrayed her love and trust. He'd used her gifts for his own agenda. She was convinced now that she'd been a fool, all along. She believed that her lover had stolen her trade secrets, brand and trademarks. She was hell bent of revenge now. She was determined to pay him back.

The only way to kill her husband Davis in the past and before he is born, is to undue time itself, which is to undo or kill God. Dr. Pepper is under the possession of the Devil. He's convinced her that this is possible. She believes she can kill Davis and God.

Now, Lucifer's plot to lure Professor Pepper Brown into a scheme to take over, time has worked for him. And now, the stage was set. Satan's plan to take over time was unfolding. And now he had the technology to do it, with the help of the Professors of iVision Dynamics.

Lucifer

Lucifer now has strategy to get back at the most High-God, for helping his beloved children, the Nubians. Satan had tried since the creation of the children of God, to destroy them. Through slavery, diseases, poverty, through drugs, through divorce, through false religions and through the enterprise of the incarceration.

Satan knows that the only way to kill LeMay in the past, before he was born is to undo time itself. Which would be to undo or kill God. Dr. Pepper is under the possession of the Devil and believes that her plan of revenge against Davis LeMay, can be achieved by collaborating with Professor Eve and Professor Eichtvonstien. Satan hath convinced them that it is possible to undo time and to kill God. Now Lucifer had a team and a plan to undue the existence of God, and time itself.

Lucifer realizes that he needs a leader to lead the nomads, the “Reptosapien. He finds that leadership in Xerses. King of Persia.

Xerses

Xerses needs a wife. So he borrows one of Satans witch wives Jezebel. Jezebel is the evilest woman to have ever lived. She loves Satan and she is immortal. Jezebel is pure evil and hates God and his children. She buys into the plot and wants to kill LeMay and God and undo time.

Jezebel

Xerxes realizes that he will need an attaché of personal guards. So Satan assigns to him the fiercest warriors none to man, in the bible days. They were, the Assyrians. Satan assigns an elite Cyber Assyrians guard as Xerxes's personal guard. The Assyrians brought fear to the children of Isreal. They were the perfect Cyber soilder, to fight against the children of God, the Nubian.

Cyber Assyrian

Cyber FW de Klerk

As Satan plan is beginning to formalize, he realizes that he will need guidance in enslaving the Nubians. So he reanimates and then contract's the help of FW de Klerk and Willie Lynch. To train slave masters in the skill of enslaving the Nubians, and in developing a best practice for maintaining their stronghold over Nubians. Willie Lynch has been reanimated as, Adolph Hitler.

Cyber Willie Lynch

Chapter 1: iVision's Vision

It was a day like any other at the office and iVision's production teams were as busy as they ever were before. Their industrious and creative sales force was driving the momentum for the increase in production. Their portfolio of customers wanting to go back into time had exceeded their demands for Chronogenic preservation services. Most of their sales analytics pointed to many of their customers wanting to go back to visit their lost loves ones.

Profesors Pepper and Fredom Brown, two of the founders of Soul Glow Industrious were at the factory and in her office reviewing some market anaylsis data that afternoon. While they surveyed analytics while they tuned into their favorite sports show The Wrestlefest show. Coffee, the team lead was whopping ass as usual. "Whopp his ass", Pepper mumbles as Coffee puts down one appoinent after another.

iVision's steller success has been afforded to them largely due to their technological advancements in the area of time travel. Which is one of their 3 primary lines of businss. Their time travel technology was developed by 3 physisist who are sisters and whose corporation is known as Soul Glow Industries. The 3 nobel prizing winning physisists had collaborated with Dr. Davis LeMay, who was the recipient of 7 genereations of eGINEERS and scientist.

Davis LeMay IIV and Peppers Brown's marriage was a match made in heaven it seemed. They'd met in school and later founded the Kemittic Institue of Sciences and Engineering, (KISE). Now the institute was gradutating engineers and post graduate degreed students comproble to that of the now ancient MIT.

Pepper Brown had leveraged Soul Glow's success to become a major share holder in iVision Dynamics and she was now globally recognized as the leadership of iVision Dynamics. Geophysicists, Professor Thomas Deusseldorf was later brought in to collaborate with Dr. Davis LeMay IIV in the management of the corporation.

But it was Professor Pepper Brown's efforts and ingenuity that was driving iVisions meteoric success now. The institute and the corporations success and the brand was all to her credit. iVision Dynamics corporation was valued at 17 Zillion dollars while Pepper Brown's net worth was some where near 150 Trillion dollars.

Sometimes Pepper Brown's professional stature overshadowed her husbands, Dr. LeMay. Dr. LeMay had learned to cope with wifes success in his own way and he was mindful of their image in the community as being a power couple and one who had it all together.

They were both role models, educators, authors and public speakers that were in high demand. Professor Davis LeMay IIV had developed techniques for balanceing their life and their work styles that they'd both established. Later Dr. LeMay would have to lean on these skills as time went on.

"Whoop his Ass"! Shouted Freedom Brown as she took in the show. The Intergalactic Wrestling Federation's Wrestle Fest was the most popular sports stream galaxy to galaxy. Coffee had become an overnight success having never lost a match. As usual Coffee was dishing out the beatdowns opponent after opponent.

The Wrestlefest matches were a free style hand to hand fight to the last person standing competition. Most of the opponents that faced Coffee wouldn't last 3 rounds. Sometimes when she really felt like putting on a show she'd toy with her opponent like a cat does with a mouse.

This day was one of those days because her current opponent was a direct descendant of the Dictator Donald Trump, who was a 20th century demagog who help to reestablish the practice of genocide, racism and exclusion.

As Pepper Brown's attention turned to the match she thought of how she'd grown to love Coffee, not just for abilities but for the achievements that she'd made during the infamous WWII which was fought on the planet earth. Coffee's contribution to the war effort changed the tide of the war and afforded the allied forces to obtain the upperhand.

Suddenly, Coffee delivers a punishing and disabling kick to the balls of the giant arian descendent rendering him helpless to more of Coffee's brutal punishment. He leans in and over into the pain in his groin and as he does he looks up just high just enough to catch a glimpse of Coffees hands reaching toward his ears which she then grabs and pulls on like paddles as her knee is heading towards his face, which lands directly into his nose which forces him to lean back up.

With lightening speed Coffee recoils back and rolls into a clasick drop kick that lands into the chest of the giant who's been reduced to a weakling who's legs were now like noodles. The giant is pumeled out of the ring by the force of Coffees blow, as the crowd goes wild. "Game over sucker"! Coffee shouts.

As Pepper and Freedom cheer Coffee on from across the cosmos, they remember on the many video clips that they'd seen of Coffee charging the front lines of the Nazi's and the having broken through many of their lines of protection; fortified from Hedge Rows. "How do you like that, mister superior race"? She says under her breath.

The connection with Coffee and Pepper Brown was much deeper than her admiration of her as a sports personality and as a decorated war hero. Pepper Brown was also the blood relative of one of the scientists who had worked on the initial prototype for Coffee; the first Artificial Intelligence Autonomous Combat Unit, (AAICU). iVision Dynamics contracted Professor Shirlene Parks, who was a graduate of the ancient HBCU, Howard University.

In those days, 4 centuries before when African Americans weren't allowed to participate in such endeavours they could and would often perform and function behind the scenes. Which was the case of Professor Parks. She developed the algorithms behind the technology that was used to incorporate the DNA of the ancient Moors of Spain into Coffee.

Working on Coffee's prototype was an opportunity for Professor Shirlene Parks to shine as an entrepreneur and as an African American. Professor Parks brokered the deal with the U.S. Army to build Coffee's prototype. Yet, it wasn't entirely her efforts that produced Coffee. With the help Professor Davis LeMays developments in cloning and DNA manipulation technologies, they were able to pull it off and simultaneously begin to live the life's of the most powerful African American at that time.

Pepper Brown had poured all that she had into her partnership with iVision Dynamics and the partnership meant everything to her. Her reputation was on the line and she spent every waking hour focusing on manifesting their time travel tour division of iVision Dynamics with Davis LeMay.

And now she'd done it. She'd achieved all of her goals and she had the fairytale marriage as the icing on the cake. Pepper Brown believed that her relationship in business and marriage to Davis LeMay was preordained by the universe itself. She'd referenced the Acacia Fields and leveraged the information there which substantiated her beliefs.

Pepper Brown believed that her marriage to Davis LeMay VII was her destiny. She believed that it was all intentional and predestined and she also believed that the bloodline between herself and Professor Shirlene Parks was all part of the plan of the Most High to ultimately defeat evil.

For Pepper Brown that plan and purpose was helping brown people to unlearn the evil the evil forces of white supremacy had taught them and imbedded into their DNA. The illusion of inferiority had been a curse imparted in the subconsciouses of brown people for generations.

Truly the planets were aligned for me, Dr. Brown thought to herself. Truly she had the favor of the gods, she'd say to herself. She knew that she was cut from royal cloth; she knew that she was the of daughter of Pharoas. Pepper also believed that was the incarnation Professor Shirlene Parks. Pepper believed that was following in the path of the her great mentor Professor Shirlene Parks.

Chapter 2: Soul Glow

Peppers relentless pursuit of success was always resistent. She never quit; she never gave in. She was going to win no matter what and no matter what she had to do. Even it if meant removing breaking the rules she was going to do what she had to to make her visions and dreams manifest.

Pepper Brown had also been a powerful force in politically and legislatively. She'd lead a coalition and fostered bills in the former America that outlawed Xenophobia, Homophobia, Antisemitisim, Islamaphobia and hate crimes against extraterrestials and cyber units also.

Pepper Brown, her ancestors and her corporation Soul Glow, pushed for legislation to elemiate organized religion in the former planet earth. Humans and Extra Terestials now used the time that they would normally use to offer their worship in a traditional setting now used this time to invest in cultivating their indivual spiritual awareness in a method called, centering.

Centering was a psycho spiritual practice adopted galaxy to galaxy. It was a way of oppening thought waves and channels in the brain to evoke the rising of the Kondelini and spiritual awareness. Centering was sort of a blend between the ancient Zen Buddhist, ancient Christianity and Alchemy with much of the ideology and teachings of Jesus Christ at the center.

The participants would congregate at the facilities that were constructed to simulate the ancient pyramids; as the pyramids design afforded them enhanced bilateral access to the Eather, conduction of electromagnetics, sound waves and vibrations for physical healing and for purging bad and negative seeds of karhma within their subconciuous.

The centering facilities afforded the participants to be able to fully embrace escoteric and metaphysical realms by opening their third eye and pineal glands, without the dogma and rigidness of formal religions. The subconscious training was essential to become spiritually awake.

Much of this reformation in the former earth was triggered by the ancient presidency in the 21st century of Donald Trump. Which was one of the administrations that facilitated the establishment of Neo Nazi regime and the 4th reight.

The Trump administration was also responsible for realesing the creating and unleashing the Corona virus in an effort to shift the U.S. economy to utilizing digital currency that was created by his firm, Haliburton, eradicated brown people from the planet and also to retain his presidency. The recommended treatments were developed by the Trump administrations partners in a further effort to finalize the eradication of all brown people of the universe.

The virus reaked havoc on Nubian culture and all inhabitants of the earth; it was designed to target the less fortunate and dissenfranchised and those who didn't have access to good nutrition and medical treatment. The Trump administration eleminated national health care at the inception of the virus being launch into the ancient United States of America.

The Trump administration was manifested to reestablish legalized slavery and it was later revealed that Adolf Hitler was reanimated as Donald Trump to perform this.

Trump's virulent combination of ignorance, emotional instability, demagoguery, solipsism and vindictiveness would do more than result in a failed presidency. It also led to civil war and to the dismantling of the GOP. Mitch McConnell, Kevin McCarthy, William Barr, Rand Paul, Lindsey Graham, Rush Limbaugh, Jared Kushner, Peter Navarro, Ben Carson, Betsy DeVos, and many other Republican leaders were found to be guilty of war crimes imprisoned as prisoners of war. Mike Pence was given a lesser sentence but sentenced to life in exile.

But alas Trump didn't have the intellect to pull off leading America out of the Covid-19 crisis that had accidentally swept through Europe and the United States of ancient America. Neither did he have intellectual capacity or compassion to govern or to counsel the people nor was he able to offer true hope to the public. Trump had the intellectual capacity of a 2nd grader and the arrogance of Napoleon.

So he would front and distract people to pretend and try to hide that he wasn't intelligent. As a result, he would constantly wind up with his foot in his mouth and needing his staff to defend or correct what he's said. The same staff that he would undermine daily.

COVID-19 was the equalizer for the Trump administration. He couldn't hide behind the Senate and he couldn't weave out of the way this time. His was is looking for their savior but their dissolution turned into discontent and resentment. The virus was the perfect storm to dismantle the disastrous hateful and incompetent Trump administration.

The Nubians overcame them all by the word of light and their love. Belt and Road was the new silk road for the ancient Chinese who allied themselves with people of color and later with the extrarestials in the earth to overthrow the evil dictatoships that had plagued the U.S. since the middle passage, centuries before.

Pepper Brown was operating from the perspective that it had taken centuries to surpress the ambitions and to sedate the minds of the Nubians with their perverted doctrines. She believed that it would also take centuries to rewire people of color with positive and correct data fields through the use of techonogly, ancient escoteric psyco spiritual awakening.

During these seasons there were also dramatic changes in ancient Americas health care systems. Prior to the civil wars of 2021 the ancient United States of America maintained a capitalist system and ideology for the management of health care. Which essentially was a way of controlling the weak and ill by allowing diseases and poor health to eliminate them.

Not only was this incredibly profitable for the capitalist it was also social Darwinism at its finest. The Trump administration was close to eradicating the Nubian race and all brown people in the earth as Hitler had tried to but the ancient Nubians survived thrived and then capitalized on the valley that they found themselves under the rule of the Trump administration.

The Trump administration triggered brown people in the earth to galvanize and to revolt against the evil Neo Nazis by joining in the fight with all other inhabitants of the earth to fight against the evil regime. As a result all of the inhabitants of earth revolted against President Trump and the GOP and ousted them in a coup and a civil war. Which led to the freedoms and liberty that humanity was enjoying and maintaining today four centuries later.

There were also many reforms in the education and senior citizens care sectors. The ancient United States now had adopted free education and free health care for seniors. These were all initiatives that were fostered by Professor Coffee Brown and Soul Glow.

Now, 30 years after her entrance into the political arena and the formation of a new Galactic Government and the reformation of the former earth's school and senior systems Pepper Brown had it all; except one thing. She was barren. Pepper Brown could bear children. They'd tried for the last 8 years yet time and time again they'd lose the baby within the first couple of months of conception.

Going through this ordeal over and over again was so taxing on their family emotionally so they finally decided to either adopt or create their own child through technology. Ultimately, creating a simulated life form with their DNA became their choice.

And as the decision to build a child through science and technology rather than to continue trying became more and more acceptable to them over time, the more that it seemed that Davis had to suppress his feelings of having his children the traditional way. The more that he'd contemplate it the more that his anxiety grew and grew.

Davis turned to his work, athletics and forms of martial arts to ease the pain and to counteract his discontent. But deep inside he knew that whoever they created the child would never be the child that he and his wife longed to have. So for the sake of their brand and their fortune he buried the pain deep inside and masked it with distractions and preoccupations that he'd constantly create. But they never seemed to fill him completely only temporarily.

Chapter 3: Le Neuvo Alchemi

Pepper Brown's office door swings open abruptly and then her sister Professor Angela Brown, Freedom Brown's twin sister storms through the door waving a report in her hand. The walk from the door and to Pepper Brown's desk was over 100 yards and there were only 3 other people who could traverse her security firewalls without being neutralized. It was designed to be that way to make the person walking to her desk intimidated.

But Angela Brown was never intimidated by the hall and she wasn't having it today. She came marching toward Pepper like a boxer in a ring about commence a fight. Pepper could hear her steps that boomed and echoed across the floor and rocked her desk as came closer and closer. "Awe hell, here comes the Devil"! Freedom exclaims.

As Angela approaches Pepper Brown's desk Pepper Brown begins to slowly do a 180 swing around in her wing backed office chair and she timed it just at the right moment to meet the oncoming onslaught from the co owner of the Soul Glow, Angela Brown.

Angela leans forward and over the front of Pepper's desk, puts one hand on her hip and with the other hand she raises as she shakes the report up and around above her head. Pepper Brown had seen this look and this behavior before from Angela Brown. She knew that this was her fight posture and she knew that her next response would trigger one or two responses from her partner.

“Have you seen this damned expense report from your damned husband? And have you reviewed the time allotment that he’s spent and the amount of time travel that he is requesting to spend for his prospecting in 1866? And are you aware of the damage that he could cause by staying too long in the past? And are you aware of the galactic penalties for staying longer than the allotted time are?”

Pepper leans back into back in the suple lambskin chair and then crossed her arms. She looks up into Angela’s eyes and responds, “I am aware of the regulations and restrictions that are enforced by Intergalactic Time Travel consortium. I wrote it”. And I am also appreciate your concern for the damage that could be caused to the universe by staying long in past.

“I approved Dr. LeMay’s request for more time in 1866, as apposed to him creating an alternate universe because that was his preference”. “Dr. LeMay prefers the look and feel of an authentic universe comprable to that of a virtual one, and I am aware of the risk of creating a flux”. But his research also could also help us to better understand how to transcend the curves in the universe, to bend and stretch it to extend our stays longer than the current two weeks at a time”. I am also aware that he’ll need to move in angles as his time will be extended in past an into the halls of Amenti.

“It was also more cost effective in this case to allow him to return for another 2 weeks rather than create a virtual one, which requires more space on our clouds that could be used for paying customers, as Dr. LeMay is paying for half of the research at his own expense”. “Angela, I need you to follow Dr. LeMay’s orders, please”. “Are we clear”?

At that, Angela gives her partner the evil eye; the one that only a Nubian Queen can execute. The kind of evil rolling of the eyes that had been passed down from generation to generation, from mother to child for centuries. It was a look that would have cut the average person in half; but not Pepper Brown. Pepper Brown had tenacity of the Ancient Barrack Obama, the business savvy of the ancient Madam Walker and she possessed the diplomatic skills of Nefretti.

Angela Brown knew that she wasn't going to win this particular fight and she knew that now was a good time to end of this argument. She chooses to retreat and to fall back with her assault. Her blood pressure began to come down as she began to dial down her attack mode. The buldging blood vessels in her eyes began to disipate as heart rate slowed down also.

She takes a deep breath and says, "I'm sorry, I'll see you later". Pepper responds, "good day Proffessor Brown". At that, Angela turns around and slowly begins to walk back towards the office door that lead from Peppers office and back to the other sector of Soul Glow Industries's pavillion. As she walks away she says under her breath, "keep sucking his d—k for the money".

She knew the Pepper had also handled the situation better than she had. She knew that Pepper had taken the high road and she also knew that she hadn't disturbed Peppers chi. Although felt dissatisfied with the results of her fight; she felt that she had peirced Peppers armor and she felt a sence of victory even if the confrontation hadn't gone the way that she'd planned. Angela hated to loose to anyone.

Angela knew that it was cheap shot at Pepper but she knew that she would continue to provoke Pepper anyway. And while she watched the buildings in the pavilion go by she began to plot a plan of revenge against her brother in-law Davis LeMay and her sister Pepper Brown. She knew that Pepper was right, but she didn't care. Angela knew that she would try to come at Pepper again but on another day and another time.

As Angela rode the sound powered tram back to side of the pavillion she contemplated her actions as well as the proverbial beat down that she'd just received from Pepper. Deep down she knew that Pepper Brown would never take a risk that she hadn't thought through. She knew that Pepper was a perfectionist and she knew that she was an excellent Scientist also. So she knew that her plan couldn't be quickly developed.

Pepper Brown knew that the roots of the resentment that she would often receive from Angela her sister ran deeper than just a sibling rivalry. She knew that an attack on her husbands work wasn't professional but always personal. She knew that it was related to Angela's prior relationship with Davis, before her marriage to Davis had begun.

Pepper knew that Angela's verbal assaults on her steamed from resentment and jealousy that she had for her and for her marriage to Davis. Pepper also believed that her emotions and negative energy would someday come to a hilt and that it could possibly affect their enterprise.

Pepper knew that her sisters feelings ran deep and she knew that had to walk on preverbial egg shells when I came to discussions about Dr. LeMays work. But Pepper was also very cognizant of the signifigance of her marriage to Davis LeMay. She realized that the relationship wasn't just a love relationship but it also represented a dynasty. A dynasty that Pepper had built upon marrying Davis LeMay and partering with iVision Dynamics.

It was a dynasty that Angela couldn't see being established back then before Pepper had manifested it all with her faith, visualiation skills and by leveraging spiritual and metaphysical laws of attraction.

Angela's love relationship with Davis LeMay was ended by Angela and Angela alone, for reasons unbeknown by anyone but Davis and herself. Pepper was always of the opinion that during their relationship that Angla felft that Davis didn't have the means that could compliment Angela's lifestyle and she believed that was that this was the reason that Angela broke off the relationship. 10 years later, Davis LeMay and Pepper Brown had become Zillionairs and had taken iVision and Soul Glow to an incomprehensible level of success.

Although Angela would also enjoy the fruits of being one the owners of Soul Glow, for Angela the marriage of Davis and Pepper was now a constant reminder of the love that she once had and it was also an incesant thorn in Angela's flesh.

Pepper had been able to conceptualize the potential of Soul Glo's and iVision's collaboration; Angela wasn't able to see the future with Davis from where she was standing then. In those days, Davis was only a Trillionaire. But Pepper saw the opportunity with a partnership between Soul Glo and iVision as being a bi-product of her marriage to Davis LeMay.

Pepper was able to interject the concepts of time travel into the subconscious minds of the board members of iVision and consequently she was able to advance her research in Alchemy, furthering the development of the framework for transcending into other dimensions in time.

Pepper Brown had open channels in the minds of the board members of iVision that afforded them access to fields of higher planes of thought to visualize the time travel line of business. As a result Pepper was able to leverage the capitol to commense the establishment of time travel tour entity within the iVision brand. And not long after Davis and Pepper got married it triggered the stellar success of iVision Dynamic's time travel tour division.

Pepper Brown's relationship with Davis LeMay, had been tested and fortified by fire in many ways. One of them was by using themselves for testing of their time travel technology. Davis and Pepper had used themselves as guenie pigs to test the cube for time travel. Neither of them were sure that it would work but after 5 years of development and trials the cube was ready for commercial use and so the marketing phase began.

Once the green light was given from the shareholders and board of directors, Peppers insight lead her to target market seniors who had lost loved ones and who desired to see them again. Pepper understood that seniors were a key market. Then she turned her marketing strategy to parents who had lost their children and then towards spouses who had lost their partners.

Within 8 years of the time travel tour line of businesses inception, it had generated more revenue than all of iVisions lines of business combined. As a result Pepper Brown had become the wealthiest female Nubian in history. And her reasearch in Alchemaic sciences and transmutting physical matter was accepted into accademic cirriculum and Centering was later adopted galaxy to galaxy as a method of physo spiritual therapy. For which, iVision Dynamics received repetative grant funding to further the Alchamiec sciences.

Davis LeMay VII and Pepper Brown had become the most influential couple of all time. Second only to Shango and and comparable to Osiris and Isis. People had nicknamed Pepper Gia and Isis now. And they sometimes refered to Davis as Osiris. Their efforts in transferring matter from dimension to dimension had catapulted them into steller success and wealth.

Chapter 4: Manifest Destiny

Davis had just returned to 2354 from a two week stay in 1866. He had been spent the last 18 months gathering research but was initially allowed to go back to 1866 to meet his great, great, great, great, great grandmother, who had left a letter for her children to read that had been partially burned in a fire.

The letter had been passed down from generation to generation and finally to him. All of his life Davis wanted to read the entire letter, and now with the coedified reasearch of his wife and the advent the time travel tour business it was finaly possible for him to go travel back into time to meet the woman who'd written the letter and also learn why it had been burned.

Davis's reasearched had garnered much information and helped their business to be able to understand how extend the amount of time that one could stay in the past and also the effects on the future as a result of his research in 1865.

Davis had been able to meet Mother LeMay, who was the slave of Henri' LeMay. He'd also learned the reason why the letter was burned. It had been an accident when she was cooking and the letter was accidently burned, but she managed to save the portion that remained throughout the ages.

Davis spent hours upon hours, day after day, and week after week listening to Mother LeMay while sitting at her table. He sold himself as an ex-slave who'd enlisted in the Army and had now been discharged after the war. Mother LeMay also had a beautiful daughter that Mother LeMay was fortunate enough to keep. She was the only one, the other two had been sold by massa. Mother LeMay had a son also who had served with the 54th in the civil war. She was so proud of her son, and she longed to see him again. She didn't know what had become of him since he'd enlisted.

Davis believed that it was his calling in life to build the time travel facility with his wife Pepper and he knew that he was walking in steps that were already ordained. He also knew that he would at some point come up with more justification to the board of directors and to Pepper for why he kept needing to return every two weeks to 1867 for last 18 months.

Davis is ready for his next expedition back to 1867 although this time he'd only been home for a week. Pepper noticed that he seemed more anxious and excited also this time. As he was being seated and wired in the cube, Angela Brown comes into the transport room and announces to the engineers that she would be programming Davis's trip this time.

"Take an early lunch break Steven, I got this". She says to the engineer. At that Steven nods in agreement and leaves the programming of the Cube in Angela's capable hands. Unbeknown to Davis, neither is anyone aware of Angela's motives for taking over the launch.

Davis is bracing for the transcendence of his molecules and jumping from 2354 to 1867. However Angela programs the transfer to Morris Island, Fort Wagner, South Carolina in July 18, 1863. Which was where the second assault on Morris Island or the Battle of Fort Wagner, was fought by the heralded 54th regiment during the first civil war in the ancient United States of America.

Angela watches through the transparent walls of the Cube as it spins into light speed as Davis's body begins to transmute and vanish before her eyes. She knows that she has just sent Davis to the front lines of the campaign for Fort Wagner; the bloodiest battle during the first civil war in the ancient United States of America, between the North and the South.

She hopes and believes that Davis will be killed during the campaign and that his body will be washed ashore like many of the other soldiers of the 54th. This is her revenge on Davis and Pepper. Angela says to herself, "that's the end of Davis LeMay". "Take that, you god damned wanna be Buffalo Soldier.

Chapter 5: Trouble In Paradise

Meanwhile back at the ranch; Pepper is contemplating the things that Angela said to her earlier. She knew that she was blowing smoke, but she also knew that her pot shots wouldn't stop. She knew that there would be another time and another place for her to do it again and the more that she would the more that Pepper would contemplate her words more deeply.

Pepper sat inanimate for a few minutes and just looking at stars outside of her office window. Her still quiet posture prompted Freedom to ask if she was okay. Pepper answers, gestures with a sigh and answers yes. She'd been experiencing anxiety of the last few 6 months over Davis's frequent jumps back into 1866.

Not only was she missing her husband but she also was growing weary of having to explain to the Intergalactic Time Travel Consortium, why Davis's jumps were constantly being extended beyond the 2 week statutory limitations. She was growing weary of having to make excuses for him time and time and again over the last year.

Pepper had also begun to notice that each time that he would return from 1866, that Davis seemed to more and more anxious to return to 1866. She felt that Davis had started to become distant from her but she would just chalk it up to his dedication to science and to expanding the horizons of iVision's time travel division.

Whenever Pepper would ask Davis about the extensive jumps that he'd been doing since the ones he'd commenced into 1866, he would always remind her that he was also still working with Mother LeMay to locate her son. He was also very insistent that he hadn't completed all of the scientific aspects of the jump that coincided with locating her son.

This assertion by Davis would usually hold Peppers anxiety at bay but now she was increasingly becoming more and more impatient with Davis's extended jumps and she had begun to wonder if Davis was using the jumps as an excuse to be away from her. Pepper wondered if their inability to have a baby could be the reason for Davis to become distant, restless and perhaps even resentful of her.

Pepper would try to equate Davis's frequent and scheduled jumps to that of a long term scientific exploration and humanitarian project. One that is funding. But time and time again Peppers woman's intuition would take precedence over logic. Her emotions and her longing for her husband had started take its toll on her and she was begging to look for ways to impress upon her husband that she wanted the expedition to be ceased.

At this point, the reasons behind why Davis always needed the extra time were becoming excuses to Pepper. Now her curiosity was elevated and her questions weren't being answered to her satisfaction. It wasn't feasible to her that her husband could be having an affair but there were just so many unanswered questions.

Pepper decides to investigate further rather than the tertiary analysis of Davis's jumps that she had been doing before. It had been 11 months since the excursions had begun and she noticed that over the last 8 months of Davis's jumps, they'd been done in intervals of two weeks, with a week at home. Which meant that she seen her husband just over 20 weeks out of the entire year since the expedition started. And it seems as though he was no closer to finding mother LeMay's son.

There had been some significant data captured in the length of time being extended beyond the two-week period, which had been leaked to the public. As a result, the stock value of iVision Dynamic's increased substantially. Davis would often bring up the earnings forecasts from his prospecting up whenever Pepper would become insistent about the cessation of the jumps into 1866. Davis would blow off her requests and admonitions the way that a man would blow off a project around the house.

Lately and more often than not, when Pepper would bring up the matter, Davis would become agitated and anxious. It was as though she'd touched a nerve in Davis. It was as though it had become a touchy subject. A subject that seemed non-negotiable. This wasn't normal for Davis and this wasn't the kind of disconnect that existed in the marriage. This was new and the only coincidence that Pepper could correlate Davis's behavior was to his reoccurring expedition into 1866.

Peppers minds-eye began to be awakened; something wasn't quite right with the scenario. Peppers sixth sense was telling her that something was out of order with her husband. She could feel that their harmony was being disrupted; she could sense that her husband had changed. Her third eye was sending the correct signals into her consciousness and into her subconscious simultaneously now, like data being written onto an ancient computer hard drive.

The writing was on the wall and the signs were all there. Something or someone was pulling her husband away from her. Peppers woman's intuition began to take precedence over her logic. There was rising emotion and tension between them now. It seemed as though Pepper would ask Davis questions that were antagonistic and his responses would sometimes trigger an argument even.

Things had changed in their marriage; there was trouble in paradise and on the horizon for their family. Alas, their marriage was having problems and neither one knew how to get back to the love that they once knew.

The comfort of her being close to her husband was now gone and without warning. Pepper was now forced to separate herself from being close to husband's body and the smell that she'd loved for years. She hadn't known any other routine and her life was her marriage and it was her existence.

Peppers very identity was being removed. She had no reference for living this way; feeling so neglected and dejected. She'd tried to hide her feelings for so long and she was told not to respond and to act as though she'd never invested time cultivating her marriage.

Pepper was now resolute in her suspicions. She believed that if it wasn't something then it was someone that was pulling her husband away from her. She was determined to get to the root of the problem and now by any means necessary. She had called on the help of the elders once before. She had leverage her celestial connection to her cosmic ancestors before; it was time to do it again.

Pepper needed a fast track into the halls of Amenti and to transmute time without using a Cube. For help she summoned Thoth. She postured herself into a full lotus, closed her eyes began to draw the energy fields that would lead her into a heightened lucent dream.

Just then a call from Angela chimes and distracts Pepper from her meditation and vibrations. Pepper returns to her physical state and answers the call.

Angela: “How’s it going”, asks Angela:

Pepper: “Fine”. “I was in the process of looking into some of Davis’s jumps into 1866.

Angela: “No Shit”! Say’s Angela.

Pepper: “Yes, I’ve been thinking about them, since you arose the issue”.

Angela comes through the door to Peppers office and says, “hmm, we need to talk”.

Angela: “Come down from there please, you’ll need to be seated and not levitating to hear this”.

Pepper ascends back down to the floor and gives Angela her attention.

Angela: “Where were going to look first”?

Pepper: “I was going to start with his last jump into 1866. I was going to use the log for the specific date”.

Angela: “Well, there’s something that you should know, and that is that I sent Davis further back than 1866”.

Pepper: “Why”? What the hell did you do that for?

Angela: “Davis said that he need to go back further to get more information about Mother LeMay’s son”.

Pepper: “Really, he didn’t tell me that”.

Angela: “I know, he said that he didn’t want to about changing the manifest. So, I authorized it and sent him”.

Pepper: “What is the specific date and place that he jumped”.

Angela: “Fort Wagner, South Carolina, July 18th,1863”.

Pepper: “WHAT”! “You sent him to the 54th regiments battle for Fort Wagner”? What the hell for?

Angela: “Because he said to”. “I was just following orders”. Remember, you said to follow his orders”.

Pepper looks at Angela with disdain and humor simultaneously.

Angela: “I don’t want you to waste your time looking into jumps were Davis isn’t going to be.

Pepper: “Right, I’ll need to transmute my mind into the future state that Davis will be, rather than physically transfer.

Angela: “I’ll hang out here with you for a while, let me know how it’s going or if you need anything while you’re on the other side of the present state.

Pepper: “Can you go with me? There might be something that I might miss.

Angela: “Sure”.

Pepper and Angela resume the ancient full Lotus posture and begin to vibrate into a higher planes of conciseness. As they channel their mental energies together looking for energetic hotspots, the multidimensional portals begin to appear before them.

They are ready to Alchemically transmute their minds into the future state of Davis in 1866, through their vibrations into higher planes of conciseness; and the portals illuminates their path.

Chapter 6: All hell breaking loose

Heartbroken and betrayed, Pepper Brown desires revenge against Davis. She is ripe for deception. The kind of deception that only Satan can render. She needs a way to get back at LeMay. The love that she had once felt for her husband Davis is gone. Now, only hate and discontent remain. She wants to destroy Davis and his work.

Satan hath tempted her to do this evil. He has put a seed of murder and revenge in Peppers heart and in her mind. Now, Pepper She has gone insane at the vision of her husband with that hussy.

She plans to kill LeMay and the slave girl. She plans to go back in time. But she knows that if she kills LeMay, it will cause a ripple in time. She knows that if she kills him before he's born it will cause a flux. To kill LeMay before he is born, would also nullify his works and inventions. Creation would never get to see the contributions that Davis has made.

The cure for Cancer. The cure for Aids. The cure of prostate cancer. A cure for Asthma. The time travel machine and so many others inventions, would never be produced if she kills him, in the past, before he is born. She needs a way to manipulate time, itself.

It is Satan in his element with Eve. She is tempted. She has a soft spot that Satan is able to exploit. It is the spirit of vanity withing her. He uses her vanity to launch his plan to bring Dr. Eichtvonstien into his plot. The plot to build the "Reptosapien Dynasty.

"Seduce your sugar daddy". He say's to Eve. "Make him bite the apple, and I will give you the world". It was the same temptation that he'd used thousands of years before, on Jesus. The pride of life. Which is the same tempation that he'd used on Donald Trump.

Chapter: 7 Reptosapien Dynasty

Dr. Eickvonston combines the DNA of the Reptosapien with the extraterrestrials from many different galaxies. The extraterrestrials are nomads that have no place of their own nor do they have their own anatomy. They are considered pseudo humans, as well. But Dr. Eickvonston loves his creations. He is their god.
